

Forty six TODMORDEN – MANKINHOLES CIRCULAR

Essentially a minor road walk, this is easy underfoot. It provides good views, variety, and takes in two typically Pennine hamlets. There are ample opportunities for refreshment. A circular bus route follows the general route round for those who've walked far enough!

Catch the train from Eccles to Manchester Victoria and change onto a Bradford train. Alight at Todmorden.

Go via the underpass to leave the station. The Friends' group has improved this station. There is now an art gallery on platform one and name signs based on the old British Transport badge.

Outside the station go down the right hand side of The Queen's Hotel.(Rise Lane) and turn right onto the main road. Notice the Todmorden Industrial Co-operative Society Shop on the left. Upstairs is The Bear Café, a good place to call in at the end of the walk.

Cross the canal and bear left at The Golden Lion and U turn up the lane behind it (Longfield Road).

The lane curves back to the right at a bus stop. Around this corner go left up some steps between the flats and a row of houses.

This path meets a hairpin bend on a minor road. Go upwards (not down) to the left and follow this lane through the farmland with a stone wall on your left.

Zigzag through the cottages and the road heads straight across the fields towards some gate posts.

Follow the road ahead. In front you can see Stoodley Pike on the summit of the Pennine way walk. This was built by French prisoners of war in the Napoleonic wars.

You will arrive at Lumbutts (a lovely hamlet with millstone grit cottages and remains of an old mill on the right.)

Follow the road through and up out of Lumbutts. The Top Brink Inn is on your left through a car park. It serves Casque-Mark real ales and food through out the day.

Continue along the road (you will pass the Methodist Church on left. Wesley 77 and Methodism were important in this area) and you will come to Mankinholes.

Follow the road as it curves left to go through the hamlet. Notice the stone water troughs on your right. Why are they like this?

Further on your right is the Wesleyan Sunday School 1833.

Follow right as the road becomes Cross Lane. There is a splendid view of Stoodley Pike here. Notice all the new houses built on the sites of two hospitals.

On the right you will see a stone railway viaduct (Stephenson – Manchester and Leeds Railway).

At bridge 27 on the left there is an old tall stone mill. (In a classical style now converted to flats.)

As you come into Todmorden, on the right is a foundry. (This is the modern Weir foundry, which makes pumps).

Go through a short pedestrian tunnel then U-turn right to join the main road. Golden Lion Square is on the right with a fine church building.
